

THE AWARD-WINNING FILM ON DARFUR

THE DEVIL CAME ON HORSEBACK

“An outstanding film... It’s superb. Period.”

— Nicholas Kristof, The New York Times

The first film to expose the genocide in Darfur through the eyes of an unlikely hero

An up-close, honest, and uncompromising look at the crisis in Darfur, THE DEVIL CAME ON HORSEBACK exposes this on-going tragedy as seen through the eyes of one American witness.

Using the exclusive photographs and first hand testimony of former U.S. Marine Captain Brian Steidle, the film goes on an emotionally charged journey into the heart of Darfur, Sudan, where in 2004, Steidle became witness to a genocide that to-date has claimed over 400,000 lives. As an official military observer, Steidle had access to parts of the country that no journalist could penetrate. Unprepared for what he would witness and experience, Steidle returned to the U.S. armed with his photographs, intent on exposing the images and stories of lives systematically destroyed.

A 2007 world premiere at the the Sundance Film Festival, this astonishingly propulsive and dramatic film from award-winning filmmakers Annie Sundberg and Ricki Stern is a heartfelt account of what this particular American witness saw and, just as important, what he did afterward.

- Inspired by Nicholas Kristof’s groundbreaking op-ed series “The American Witness” in The New York Times
- Based on Brian Steidle’s acclaimed book “The Devil Came on Horseback”
- 2007 World Premiere at Sundance Film Festival—from the award-winning directors of The Trials of Darryl Hunt
